STATE NEWS.

Brother Steinberger, of the Okolona Messenger, who hails from the north has the following comment upon President Roosevelt: "Every time Roosevelt opens his mouth he tries to insult the people living south of the Mason and Dixon line. Ever notice that small men in big places are never able to keep themselves before the public except by the utterance of uncouth and unnecessary abuse of those with whom they may have occasion to differ? The President is entirely too small for the hole he accidentally dropped into, and now realizes that he would better have remained the big toad in a small puddle than a small toad in a large puddle."

The Yazoo Sentinel correctly says: "It is no discredit to a man to have enemies and opposition. Many men hesitate to take any course that will call forth opposition from any person, because they dislike to have enemies. The world is full of envious people. Some people hate a man because he is successful in business or occupies a prominent position in the community. The world has no animosity toward the quiet citizen who dares not express an opinion, who gets in no one's way and offends no one. It is the man who is honest in his convictions, the man of push and energy, who incurs enmity. Show us a man 'who has not an enemy in the world,' the kind you read about once in a while, and we will prove to you that there is something radically wrong in his make-up."

Okolona Messenger: "There is more sense than sentiment in the demand of the hour from the south for recognition of a southern man in the next national convention. The fact is that without the south's loyalty to the old party, there would not be enough democrats in the United States to keep up a showing in a national convention, and yet when convention day comes round, some northern or western chap steps forward with a demand for the honor, or the plea that the naming of a southern gentleman would be like the throwing of a red flag in a bull's face. Well, let it be thrown. The days of sectional strife are past and gone, with sensible northern men as well as those of the south, and if this section is for all time to be placed at the tail end of the democratic kite and none of its sons considered worthy of a nomination for the presidency by the democratic party, the sooner that party is abandoned, and the presumptuous bosses of it in the north left with their handful of votes and never an electoral ticket that can be elected, the better. The south might as well have no alliance with a national party as to be forever dangling at the tail of the kite."

PERSONAL AND PERTINENT.

"The item in your paper yesterday about a watch having doubtless saved the life of a man," said a citizen today "reminds me of a similar incident which occurred during the Civil War. In the battle of Chickasaw Bayou, Col. Samuel M. Meek was seen to clap his hands over his heart, reel and fall to the ground, apparently dead. His men carried him to the rear, where he was left in the care of surgeons. Twenty minutes later he was again at the head of his men, his appearance causing a sensation similar to the advent of an apparition. A minnie ball had struck his watch, which was carried in a pocket over his heart. Colonel Meek was a gallant Confederate soldier, a great criminal lawyer, and withal a most worthy man. His brothers—A. B. Meek, the revered sweet singer of Alabama of other days, and Benjamin F. Meek, late of the faculty of the State University—will long be remembered by Alabamians."—Birmingham News.

The watch referred to above, was carried by Colonel Meek up to the time of his death, and is still in possession of the family.

We had the pleasure of a visit recently from our old friend, Rev. J. A. Hippel, and were glad to hear that he has been assigned to the Catholic parishes of Aberdeen and Columbus, with residence at Columbus. He will be among his former fellow-citizens frequently.—Aberdeen Examiner.

According to the last report of the Inter-state Commerce Commission, 813 persons were killed in railroad accidents during the three months ending December 31, 1901. Government reports of Great Britain show that not a single railroad passenger was killed during the year 1901 in that country. This is a contrast which should command the attention of every legislator. Even the better English system of their elevated and depressed crossings does not explain away the difference. With all our boasted superiority in train service, the price in human lives lost is too high.—St. Louis Republic.

Spring Fever.

Spring fever is another name for biliousness. It is more serious than most people think. A torpid liver and inactive bowels mean a poisoned system. If neglected, serious illness may follow such symptoms. DeWitt's Little Early Risers remove all danger by stimulating the liver, opening the bowels and cleansing the system of impurities. Safe pills. Never gripe. "I have taken DeWitt's Little Early Risers for torpid liver every spring for years," writes R. M. Everly, Moundsville, W. Va. "They do me more good than anything I have ever tried."

KOLOLA SPRINGS.

The month of June brings many friends, far and near, together at this popular resort.

For more than half a century these springs have been visited for their curative properties, and aside from this special feature, they are now largely patronized by many prominent people seeking not only health, but recreation, sport, pleasure and last, but not least, "love's wooings;" and, indeed, this is an ideal spot, for the water never leaves one just as it finds them.

Kolola Springs ranks in analysis with any of the famous watering resorts both in this country and abroad, and being on the Buttahatchie river, no more delightful place can be found.

If the electric cars, which are so soon to be put in operation in Columbus, could be extended this far, hotels and boarding houses would soon be built, and hundreds of people from Columbus and our neighboring cities would have a delightful summer right at home, and save the expense and fatigue of a trip, and many strangers would be induced to come in our midst.

The few cottages already erected are full during the summer, and as many more are now in demand.

Several persons from a distance, coming for their health, are in camp at present.

Aberdeen, Monroe county, Columbus and Caledonia were well represented last Sunday.

Our efficient sheriff, Mr. J. T. Armstrong, and family are visiting the Springs.

Miss Clio Hearn, one of the Franklin Academy faculty, is out for the summer, at the home of her childhood, with Mr. and Mrs. Nye Hearn. Mrs. Hearn, formerly Miss Mamie Ervin, is a charming addition to the Kolola neighborhood.

Dr. J. D. Hutchinson and family are enjoying their country home, "Nelsondale," for the summer.

Misses Estelle and Willie Verner, two lovely young ladies of Columbus, are soon to spend some of the warm days at "Nelsondale."

The 4th of July has been planned a gala day at the Springs. Hamilton's Gun Club is booked as one of the chief attractions.
